A Letter from the CEO

The year 2025 marked an historic year of service, growth and transformation at Family Service & Guidance Center – one of the most important chapters in our 121-year history.

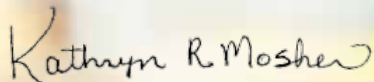

Since earning Certified Community Behavioral Health Clinic (CCBHC) accreditation in 2023, FSGC has focused on increasing access to whole-person, evidence-based care and achieving positive outcomes. In 2025, we not only increased access to services but also removed barriers, making it easier for individuals and families to get help when they needed it most. We strengthened outcomes and expanded services for special populations, including incarcerated youth and unsheltered families. You will see this progress reflected in the data shared in “Highlights” and “By the Numbers.”

Still, 2025 was anything but business as usual. Beginning in February, all 366 members of the FSGC team worked tirelessly to plan our January 1, 2026, merger with Valeo Behavioral Health Care. Staff members leaned into change – planning thoughtfully, asking hard questions and positioning the organization for long-term success – while continuing to deliver high quality, compassionate care day in and day out. For their dedication, creativity and resilience, I am deeply grateful.

Because of that hard work, we step confidently into an exciting new chapter as Astra Mental Health & Recovery, an innovator, trusted community partner and regional mental health provider. I am proud to say that the individuals and families that we serve remain in capable, caring hands.

We hope you will continue to support Astra with the same generosity and commitment you showed Family Service & Guidance Center. With friends like you standing alongside those we serve, the future is full of possibility.

Sincerely,

Kathy Mosher
CEO

2025 Highlights

- Thanks to having 60 licensed clinicians on staff, FSGC provided significantly more therapy sessions than 2025. Access to services has also increased.
- FSGC's school-based mental health services served 692 students in 33 Topeka schools in 2025. That is a 6.8 percent increase over 2024.
  - 80 percent improved school attendance
  - 83 percent decreased problematic behavior
  - 78 percent improved their grades
  - 84 percent improved internal problematic behavior (behavior that can cause personal emotional or psychological harm, such as anxiety, depression, social withdrawal and self-harm).
- FSGC's Juvenile Detention Center liaison and clinical teams ensured that youth received behavioral health care when they needed it.
- Expanded outreach to the community, schools and medical providers yielded increased referrals to the new Eating Disorders Treatment Program.
- Children participating in the Anxiety Treatment Program's therapeutic groups reported better school attendance, increased confidence and decreased social anxiety.
- Preschool-age children in our Early Childhood Intervention Program showed measurable improvements in school readiness, behavior and academic engagement.
- 25 percent of FSGC services were provided in the home or community.
- 8 percent of FSGC services were provided via telehealth.
- Staff turnover decreased from 32 percent to 27.9 percent – a decrease of over 4 percent – in 2025. In the third quarter, staff turnover was just 4.3 percent, a record quarterly low.
- Human Resources certified 302 staff members in critical safety skills, including Managing Aggressive Behavior (MAB) and CPR.
- Through eight IMPACT Avenue outreach events, FSGC staff members connected with 15 parents and guardians experiencing homelessness, representing 21 youth. Fifteen of those youth were already actively receiving services through FSGC.
- 352 FSGC staff members completed 6,479 online training courses on a wide range of crucial topics.
- 25 in-house training sessions on a variety of clinical topics were offered to all staff members.
- FSGC's Wellness Committee organized a broad range of activities for staff members, including yoga; employee appreciation; a visit from therapy dogs; an Employee Assistance Program introduction; regular visits from a local coffee truck; and the launch of a new podcast club.
- 2025 marked the launch of dedicated Organizational Development support at FSGC, including leadership development coaching and work team development.
- FSGC School and Outreach Services (SOS) concluded 2025 with social and emotional skill-building groups established in 10 local schools and on the FSGC campus.

What people are saying about FSGC

FSGC cares about the children they treat. I have never questioned their dedication to the cause. – FSGC Parent/Caregiver

I cannot thank FSGC enough for the world-class services they provide. Before becoming a foster parent, I didn't understand what they did. I will be a friend of this fantastic organization for the rest of my life. – FSGC Parent/Caregiver

FSGC has been so helpful during my family's difficult time. I feel included while my son is receiving help. I feel like they've helped me as well. – FSGC Parent/Caregiver

My sons have thrived under your care... As a parent, I have also benefited greatly from the center's resources. The time spent with my boys and their therapists have given me the knowledge and confidence to be the best parent I can be. – FSGC Parent/Caregiver

FSGC has been an incredible resource and done good in our family. My son has been steadily improving and rebuilding his confidence. THANK YOU! – FSGC Parent/Caregiver

Our experience with the (supported employment) program has been fantastic. Not only has it been a benefit for our business but it has been very rewarding for the employee. – Employer, Individual Placement & Support Program

FSGC's school-based services have done wonders for this third-grade student, and all the support this year has helped his social skills flourish. These services have helped this kiddo immensely and we are grateful for them here in the school setting. – Middle School Staff Member

Through the Mental Health Intervention Team, dozens of students and families now have access to vital mental health services that were previously out of reach. Our students continue to make significant progress toward their goals. – Middle/High School Staff Member

Before coming to college, my world was grey, but now it's full of color! Before, I spent so much time being isolated. I never would have thought that I could socialize with people outside of my providers and family. I know I can do it with the support of my treatment team.– Person served, Individual Placement & Support Program

Andrew* was in services in the substance use treatment program. At one point, the treatment team was worried he would overdose. He is now clean, functioning well and is working as a para at a local school. He seems to have found his calling. – FSGC Staff Member

* Not the individual's real name

I'm much more confident now and able to advocate for myself. I'm no longer scared to talk to the supervisors, and I have no trouble interacting with customers. I'm learning accountability and how to succeed. My job is helping me transition into adulthood. – Person served, Individual Placement & Support Program

[FSGC staff members] believed in me when others didn't. I didn't think I could change, but your support helped me see that I could. – Person served, Substance Use Treatment Program

A Legacy Carried Forward

Family Service & Guidance Center was established in 1904 with a simple purpose: to help the people of Topeka during a time of extraordinary need. The Kansas River had flooded, destroying many businesses near the river and rendering 4,000 people homeless. Back then, the organization was called the Associated Charities and it provided clothing, food and emergency shelter to displaced Topekans.

For the next 121 years, that basic purpose guided generations of social workers, psychologists, staff members, board leaders and kind supporters well. As community needs changed, FSGC evolved, expanding access to care and responding in moments of both crisis and seizing opportunities for growth.

In the 1950s, Family Service & Guidance Center turned its focus from basic welfare needs to mental health. Even then, the organization recognized that mental health care is constantly evolving. FSGC continued to adapt as the field advanced and as new challenges emerged, but the organization always remained grounded in a commitment to high quality, compassionate, community-based care. Through that commitment, thousands of children, adults, and families found support, stability and hope.

What stands out most across Family Service & Guidance Center's long history is not any single program or milestone – though there have been many – but the consistency of its mission. For more than a century, FSGC showed up for Topeka with reliability and a deep sense of responsibility. That steady presence built trust and laid a foundation strong enough to grow beyond one organization's name.

On January 1, 2026, Family Service & Guidance Center became part of Astra Mental Health & Recovery, marking the close of one chapter and the beginning of another. This transition does not signal an end to our work; instead, it reflects the strength of it. The values, experience and community trust cultivated over 121 years will continue through Astra, expanding the reach and sustainability of services well into the future.

This final FSGC annual report honors a remarkable legacy and the thousands of dedicated staff members and supporters who made it possible. Their commitment ensured that the organization was built to last – strong enough to evolve, collaborate and carry its mission forward.

The story of Family Service & Guidance Center has been and will always be one of continuity, care and community. That story does not end here. It continues through Astra Mental Health & Recovery, moving forward into a strong and hopeful future.
